The league has not only lost one of the strongest teams, but the hardest working manager in the bunch Mr. Love has always made it possible to secure the grounds, and, in fact, has gone so far as to pay for the lease in advance and trust to the league to relmburse him

Commerce and Labor seems to have the call on the Departmental League pennant this year. With the addition of Whitney and Elmer Smith, the Laborites are a corking good ball team, and when that famous heavy artilley starts bombarding the opposing twilers there is nothing to it but Commerce and

The addition of Smith was a ten strike by Manager Shoemaker. Early in the scason he was tipped off that Smith was a promising youngster, but did not think that he would need him.
Then when Richmond left and Whitney was going had Shoemaker was compelled to land another twiter, and Smith was the one that suited him best. To date Smith has only worked three innings for the Laborites, but he held the Post-office aggregation hittens and runless in those sessions and saved the same for Commerce and Labor after the Malimen had pounded Whitney off the sinb.

Too Many Leagues The Main Trouble

Chief Reason Why Circuits Are Losing Clubs. Players Quit Weak Teams to Join Possible Pennant Winners.

Now that the amateur season is rapidly drawing to a close and the weak teams are realizing that they have no chance for the pennant, forfeits will again be the rule in more than one amateur circuit. One thing that hurts these asgregations more than anything else is the desire of the crack players whom they have signed at the beginning of the season to get with a team, that has a possible chance for the pennant. These men got to their managers about this time every season and ask for their releases, so that they may play with the leaders in the race and have all the chance in the world to play in the post-season series. This hurts the heads of the different teams, and they find when they are scheduled to play and the umptre calls time that they have not nine eligible men on the field, and hence they forfeit. There is only one remely for this, and that is to cut down the number of leagues in the District. There are not enough good ball players in the city to make up men enough for twelve leagues, and the sooner the commission realizes this the better. The District could easily support

NATIVITY CHALLENGES.

lubmen Are Ready to Defend the Independent Champtonship,

The Nativity Athletic Club challenge all teams in and around the District to decide the independent championship of the District. The clubmen have been playing great ball to data and have a have won fifteen and lost six, defeating such teams as Alexandria A. C., Eastern A. C., and many other teams that have been playing good ball during the season. The addition of Smithson to their pitch ing staff has filled up the one place where they were weak. He has won six of the eight games he has pitched. The manager would like to hear from the following teams, and also all others the following realis, and also at others who desire games with his team: Waverleys, Andrews, Fort Myer, Oxon-Hill, Strayer's, Lusons, National Athletic Club, Herwyn, and St. Elizabeth's.
